

Outpouring for Ryan warms heart of Nova Scotian

(Re: Ryan pays it forward for Able Network, May 5)

Thank you again for keeping up with the good things that happened in Ryan Grant's life.

All of this attention restores faith in people with challenges.

We all struggle with challenges, some more than others. People basically are kind and caring but sometimes the "Ryans? in our lives jolt us into reality and make us stop and think about how we treat our neighbours.

Ryan, keep that lovely positive attitude and smile.

The outpouring of kindness warms my heart, and I'm sure Ryan's as well.
